SHE SAID YES

Introducing Mrs. Kendall Gray

CHIC PARISIEN'S ASSISTANT BUYER & BRIDAL STYLIST KENDALL'S WEDDING WAS MORE THAN A CHIC EVENT. IT WAS A BRIDAL FASHION MOMENT.

If there's ever been someone who lives and breathes wedding dresses - it's Kendall. She's a lover of all things bridal fashion: lace, tulle, sparkle, ballgowns, and a long train - all the drama!

She'd said "yes" to the first big question, but another loomed: What would she wear? Her answer? Multiple dresses! Naturally.

For her welcome party she donned a Monique Lhuillier mini with a bubble hem and full sleeves in a light floral print. It was Monique's Bon Bon mini dress custom made with her iconic Bloom print.

Then came the big day.

A morning rainstorm cleared up to reveal the most glorious of Miami days for the beautiful couple and their family and friends from near and far.

First, Kendall walked down the aisle at Vizcaya Museum and Gardens in a custom Monique Lhuillier ballgown - The volume! The drama! The tulle halter that tied into a bow and had tails extended to veil length! It was everything. But it was also just the start.

Next, came an Ines Di Santo gown that Kendall designed in collaboration with their team.

It was time for some feathers! And something a little more body-conscious. The gorgeous fitted silhouette was accompanied by her new husband, Austen, and a flute of champagne on the dance floor. The best part? The dress was included in Ines' new collection and is available now to order.

But the night wasn't over yet. No wedding is complete without a mini statement dress, right? Right. YolanCris designed Kendall this tres chic little dress to close out a night of looks.

Cheers to the beautiful, chic couple!

BRIDAL FASHION WEEK FRONT ROW

COVER: Catherine Fox Milian, Chic Parisien's owner and buyer, traveled to Barcelona Bridal Market to see the latest collections from a selection of our chic designers. This season Ines Di Santo was celebrated with a presentation at an icon of Spanish architecture, the Mies van der Rohe Pavilion.

ABOVE: Berta brought back the fashion show for this season at New York Bridal Market. Chic Parisien's team sat front row to see this collection of gowns from: Berta, Muse by Berta, and Berta Privée. All available at Chic Parisien.

BRIDAL SHOPPING TIMELINE

AFTER THE ENGAGEMENT

Celebrate! Start talking about when and where you want your wedding. And start gathering style inspo.

BEFORE YOUR FIRST APPOINTMENT

Have your venue or location decided (it can make a big difference in the style of your dress). Start online browsing and making a Pinterest board. Save Instagram pics of dresses that are your style.

BOOK AN APPOINTMENT

And if you want to bring some loved ones with you, invite them to join you.

WHEN YOU SAY "YES"

Be ready to "say yes" once you find a dress you love! You've done the research, you're with the people you trust, but ultimately our best advice is to trust your gut.

WHILE YOU WAIT

Find your wedding shoes! Think about details like how your hair will be styled. Having an idea of your full look will help us find the perfect headpiece and jewelry to go with your dress.

FIRST ALTERATIONS

You must have your wedding shoes with you at this time. You should also bring with you any undergarments that would affect the fit of your dress, such as a corset or a petticoat (which are optional, if you have questions just reach out and ask your stylist).

ACCESSORY TIME

Veils and headpieces take a few months to arrive, so be sure you keep your timeline in mind when ordering. Our Maria Elena trunk shows are a good time to come in! You can always shop for accessories during your first fittings, so that by the last, you can see your whole wedding day style come together!
